Profile

Recently I complete a Full Stack study program at a coding bootcamp where I developed Javascript, Html, CSS, Jquery, Ajax, and React skills. I have knowledge s to work with Single Page Applications and REST applications and experience of building responsive website with Bootstrap or just with Javascript, CSS and Html. The last months I've being studying and building applications with React and Redux, I create my own boilerplate with babel and web pack to develop React apps with Node server. For the backend I have ability to develop servers with Node.js and Express, and use PostgresSQL or MongoDB databases. I appreciate Test Driven Development, and can create tests unity using Jest or Mocha.
My strong skills are faster learner, a great sense of troubleshooting, and handle deadlines and pressure situations. I bring from my past working experiences designing skills, inherited by working as design graphics freelance since 2007 and a commercial experience as a editorial design.
